

BRUSH FIRES THREATENING MOUNT WOODS

California's Movie Colony Apparently Out of Danger

Los Angeles, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Leaving the Malibu Beach film colony apparently safely behind, a roaring brush fire today threatened to rage on down the coastline into a heavily wooded mountainous strip which for 20 years has been regarded as the most dangerous fire menace in southern California.

Gravest concern was felt as the fire, sweeping southward a mile or so off the coast highway, went out of control.

Lying in its path, over an 18 mile route thick with trees, matted underbrush and shrubs, are Las Flores, Topogano and Santa Monica Canyons, and then the wooded country embracing the fashionable Rivera, Brentwood, Bel Air and Beverly Hills.

Heroic efforts by 150 workers temporarily stopped the southward rush, but the danger remained that wind would whip it out of control again, or send it in another direction around the Malibu reservoir. From there it could turn toward the south again.

Members of the executive Malibu Beach colony breathed more easily as the blaze changed direction and rushed on southward, leaving an ever-widening burned over area between their seaside homes and the roaring fireline.

Fire Meets Fire
Fire met fire to halt the roaring advance of flames barely 100 feet away from the north end of the beach resort.

Five hundred nearly exhausted fighters started a back-fire, herded it back to meet the on-rolling wall of flames, and with a spectacular clash of fire that leaped high in the air against a billowing background of smoke, the menace to the Malibu colony was ended, at least temporarily.

Fighters said unless a high wind developed to renew the fury of the flames, or lash hot embers over the beach section, the danger was over.

Firefighters in this area said the $400,000 white, castle-like mansion of Mrs. May K. Rindge, was safe.

Prominent members of the movie colony who have homes on the beach watched the battle. John Boles, Edmund Lowe, Myrna Loy, Leatrice Joy, David Butler, Jack Warner and many others cheered lustily when the back-fire proved successful.

A tricky wind had kicked the million dollar blaze back and forth for 24 hours.

Early yesterday a back-fire proved unsuccessful. A high wind jumped the brush flames over the area burned by the back fire.

Wind Switched Around
Borne on swirling gusts of wind, the flames raged up Escondido and Latigo canyons last night toward the fork of Malibu Vista Junction, fashionable mountain resort, then the wind switched around and the blaze started back.

Threatened was the valuable ranch home of Cecil B. DeMille, noted producer-director. While the flames were two miles away, DeMille sent a force of men to the place to remove furnishings, books, art treasures and many motion picture film prints.

Charged acres by the thousand, with damages mounting over the $8,000,000 mark and hundreds hurt, none fatally, gave vivid evidence of the most destructive forest and brush fire rampage in recent southern California history.

JACKIE COOGAN COMES INTO HIS GREAT FORTUNE

Hollywood, Calif., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Jackie Coogan comes of age tomorrow and into his control will pass the vast fortune which grew from his earnings as the greatest juvenile star of the silent motion picture era.

What the fortune amounts to, exactly, no one knows, except Jackie, his mother and their business manager. A movie colony consensus placed the figure at nearly a million dollars.

The Coogans have assiduously denied themselves to interviewers since their return from New York, and the business manager, Arthur Bernstein, flatly refused to discuss Jackie's financial status.

He will receive his fortune in quarterly installments. Most of it is in real estate, with negotiable bonds and actual cash composing part of it.

His fortune was considerably enlarged through life insurance policies, paid several months ago, after the death of his father, John Coogan, Sr., in an automobile accident near San Diego.

He's Busy Body

Oxford, O., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Fellow students wonder what Rudy Griesheimer does with his spare time.

A Miami University junior, he works 50 hours a month for the national youth administration; puts in 24 hours as an assistant in the department of physics; spends five or six hours a week grading papers; acts as office boy for a cab company several hours a night; carries 20 hours academic work; audits another two hour course; plays in the university band—and habitually makes straight "A's."

PLANS FOR BIG FETE PROGRESS

Arrangements for Halloween Festival are Taking Form

A committee for the Halloween Festival met at the Chamber of Commerce offices Thursday afternoon to hear further suggestions for Dixon's first attempt to stage a carnival on that night.

R. W. Bogue, who has witnessed successful Halloween celebrations at Decatur, related the experiences of that city in conducting a carnival. He explained that the main feature of Decatur's carnival was a three mile long parade composed mostly of pedestrians dressed in grotesque costumes or leading pets costumed in Halloween garb furnishing amusement to the crowds along the line of march. Some vehicles such as antique bicycles and other contraptions were entered in the parade and prizes were awarded winners of costume, pet and vehicle contests in the parade.

Plans Complete

Superintendent A. H. Lancaster in charge of the Dixon program committee said plans had been completed for the holding of a street dance, a pet show, boxing matches, and a parade in the festival here if that is what the people want. An increasing number of entries in the proposed boxing matches has virtually assured that feature. The parade will be the foundation upon which the whole celebration will hinge. Another unique stunt was suggested last night that might be tried at the festival. A chicken would be thrown from the upstairs window of a Dixon store into the street and whoever catches the chicken would have it for a meal.

Several ideas of that nature will be tried in this first festival which will be a nucleus upon which to build future festivals on Halloween if interest and success of the first venture warrant.

Those present at Thursday's meeting were A. H. Lancaster, program committee; Mrs. John Davies, prizes; F. A. Hanson, judging; Joe Eichler, parade; Harold G. Boltz, general co-chairman, and R. W. Bogue.

Truck Owners Must Register to Secure Employment on WPA

County Superintendent of Highways Fred W. Leake today received unofficial information to the effect that the Lee county Works Progress Association program, which has been approved, would receive federal allotment of funds within a few days. In compliance with the WPA ruling, names and addresses of all truck owners who may be employed on the projects, will be required to register at the county superintendent of highways office on the first floor of the court house building immediately. Superintendent Leake urged truck drivers to observe this ruling and to file their registration without delay.

BROWN GETS CONTRACT

Boston, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Contracts totaling $441,147.50 were awarded today for shoes for Civilian Conservation Corps members. The Brown Shoe Company of St. Louis received a contract for 86,000 pairs of service shoes at $2.35.

Reports of Earth Tremors Here This Week Cause Investigation; Not Caused by Cement Co. Blasts

Either earth tremors or dynamite blasts have rocked homes in section of Dixon during the past few days, causing considerable alarm, and were the cause of an investigation today. The tremors were reported to have been felt in homes on both sides of the river Wednesday afternoon about 3:30 and were thought by some to have resulted from blasting operations at the Medusa cement plant east of the city.

Inquiries at the cement company's offices brought the information that the blasting operations in the quarries at the plant were not started until 4 o'clock Wednesday, fully half an hour after the first reports were received of the tremors in Dixon. At the court house the tremors were felt particularly in the northwest wing of the building, where books and filing cases in County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock's office shook.

In the south end of the city several residents reported experiencing tremors Wednesday afternoon, but believed the shock to have been caused by the blasting operations in the cement plant quarries. As in other cases, the information from the cement company's offices was to the effect that no dynamite charges had been set off on that day until 4 o'clock, fully a half hour after the complaints began to be received.

WIDOW SLAIN GANGSTER IS PUT ON BOND

Dutch Schultz, Three of Henchmen, Dead From Bullets

BULLETIN

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine announced today the discovery of a hotel room containing "business" records which "may shed light" on the gangster killings of Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Flegenheimer and four other persons.

The room, Valentine said, had been occupied several months by Louis (Pretty) Amberg, whose battered body was found in a burning automobile in Brooklyn Wednesday morning.

Valentine indicated he believed the discovery important and said his investigators had been poring over the records since the room was found last night. Police found more than $1,000 in currency and considerable jewelry in a safety deposit box under the assumed name Amberg took at the hotel.

Newark, N. J., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Newark police held the young widow of Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Flegenheimer today in the hope she can supply some clue in a sweeping search for the assassins of the gang chieftain and three henchmen.

The 21-year-old woman, Mrs. Frances Flegenheimer, was booked as a material witness last night, less than three hours after Schultz died of the wounds inflicted by rival gang bullets.

Held Under Bond

Mrs. Schultz was arraigned before Acting Judge Thomas Guthrie in First Criminal court. Her counsel made a plea that she be released on her own recognizance. Judge Guthrie denied the plea and ordered Mrs. Schultz held in $10,000 bail as a material witness. Bail was not immediately supplied.

Three employees of the tavern in which Schultz and his henchmen were fatally wounded were also held as material witnesses.

The racketeer himself, overlord of the beer business in the Bronx in the prohibition era and later a figure in other rackets, gave the police no help.

Delirious at Death

He died at 8:35 P. M., in City hospital, deliriously mumbling words which could not be understood.

Bernard Rosenkrantz, Schultz's chauffeur and one of the quartet mowed down in a cafe gun battle.

FINANCES OF TOWNSENDERS ARE DETAILED

Took in $636,000 in Two Years Convention is Informed

BULLETIN

Chicago, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The "Townsend Plan," Dr. Francis E. Townsend's campaign for old age pensions, took in $636,803.21 in two years, the California physician's followers were told at the first annual convention today.

Its directors spent, in pushing their drive, a total of $854,462 in that time, said Ray S. McAllister, reading the financial report.

Dr. Townsend himself received $7,532.75 according to the report the figure including expenses McAllister estimated at "about 74 a week." The co-founder of the Townsend Plan, R. E. Clements, former Long Beach, Calif., real estate man, was paid a few dollars less.

O. A. R. P. Has Balance

The "O. A. R. P., Ltd.," a not-for-profit corporation which is the business end of Dr. Townsend's campaign, ended September with a balance of $1,356.19 in various banks, McAllister reported.

Pensions of $200 a month would be paid the aged—all over 60 years—under Townsend's proposal.

From the sale of books, buttons and leaflets alone, "O. A. R. P. Ltd." (Old Age Revolving Pensions) took in $147,574.24, McAllister reported.

"Townsend Clubs," as clubs, donated $133,275.28, and membership fees, donations and special collections from individuals came to another $20,594.93.

Then McAllister turned to the spending side. Salaries of the head office force totaled $39,550 he said. To run the regional offices of Dr. Townsend's organization cost $41,398; supplies for area managers cost $49,000; general office expenses came to $39,550; the telephone and telegraph bill for Dr. Townsend's national drive was $3,808. The total cost of furniture and fixtures of the organization was $3,332.

Report 4,594 Clubs

On radio advertising the O. A. R. P. spent $41,382.71.

The delegates, with Chairman Frank A. Arbuckle of Santa Monica, Calif., a former state senator, claiming a registration of $6,000 sang a chorus of "Smiles" before hearing the report and shouted a vote of approval at its close.

B. G. Rankin, of Townsend's Washington office staff, told the delegates that there are now 4,594 "Townsend Clubs" in the country, and predicted "there will be a thousand new ones in 30 days."

REPORT FORMER BUREAU COUNTY DOCTOR DROWNS

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau of investigation said today he had "heard" reports that Joseph P. "Doc" Moran, formerly of Spring Valley, Ill., wanted for questioning in the Bremer kidnapping, had been drowned in Lake Erie, but he could neither confirm nor deny them.

The reports were that Moran had been drowned eight months before he was indicted with members of the notorious Karpis-Barker gang for alleged activity in connection with the $200,000 kidnapping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul, Minn., banker.

Moran is credited with having mutilated the finger prints of Alvin Karpis and three of the Barker brothers after they were indicted in the kidnapping. Moran was twice paroled from the Illinois penitentiary, the last time on December 15, 1931.

The gangster was 36 years old at the time of his reported death. Dr. Moran formerly practiced in La Salle and Bureau counties, Illinois. He was sentenced from La Salle county in November, 1928 for abortion. On April 7, 1930, he was paroled, but was returned to the penitentiary at Joliet later as a parole violator, to be freed in 1931.

Dr. Moran was regarded as efficient in his profession. While an inmate at Joliet he was said to have performed hundreds of operations, his patients being both prisoners and prison officials.

(Telegraph Special Service)

Franklin Grove, Oct. 25.—Mrs. J. B. Thornton, aged about 90, passed away at her home here at 7:30 P. M. Wednesday after an extended illness. Funeral services will be held at the home at 2 P. M. Saturday afternoon, Rev. C. P. Block, officiating, and with burial in Lee Center cemetery.

Refused: Dies

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Miss May Vance Smith, 21, a preliminary student nurse, plunged seven stories to her death at a hospital nurses' home here today. Her home was in Chester, Ill.

The body was found on the hospital grounds a few hours before she was to have returned to her home in Chester after receiving notice that she would not be admitted as a student nurse.

JAPS PACIFIED BY AN APOLOGY

U. S. Commander Tells of Regret Sailors Tore Down Flags

Tsingtao, China, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A Japanese-American incident, involving an alleged insult to the Japanese flag by two American sailors, was settled today.

The commander of a United States submarine division here called upon a Japanese naval intelligence officer expressing regret for the incident. He explained that the case, in which the two American sailors were alleged to have pulled down Japanese flags from the front of a restaurant, was under investigation.

The American commander said that if the sailors were found to be guilty of the accusation, they would be punished in accordance with United States navy regulations.

The commander, the American consul and the Japanese naval intelligence officer called on the Japanese consul-general in token of atonement.

Ships Sail Today
The American vessels will sail for Manila today.

Representatives of the Japanese community had requested the Japanese consul to insist on an American reply before the sailors' ship, the submarine tender Canopus, left port.

Otherwise they threatened to call a mass meeting to consider further steps against the sailors who, the Japanese charged, pulled down Japanese flags from the front of a restaurant.

The Japanese embassy at Shanghai said the sailors were arrested by Japanese consular police and thus saved from an angry Japanese mob. The names of the Americans, reported to have been intoxicated, were not divulged by authorities.

"GIFT OF GOD" BABY CASE TO HIGHEST COURT

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Muench-Ware "Gift of God" baby case was headed for the state supreme court today after the St. Louis Circuit Court of Appeals had ordered the 10-week-old infant brought into court by Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, one of the women who claims it.

As the three members of the Circuit Court of Appeals, sitting as a body for the first time in the case, overruled a motion to quash a previous order that the baby be produced in court, Edgar J. Keating, Kansas City attorney for Mrs. Muench, said he would ask the Missouri Supreme Court to hear for a writ of prohibition against the order.

The judges ordered that the baby, claimed by unwed Anna Ware, a servant, and by Mrs. Muench, sister of one of the judges of the state supreme court, be brought into court at 4 P. M. today. Keating said the hour would not permit him time to file his motion before the Supreme court at Jefferson City, and the local court changed its order to require the baby's presence Monday morning.

Judge Alschuler Was Banquet Honor Guest

Chicago, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Governor Henry Horner and Lieutenant Governor Thomas F. Donovan were among the 400 guests last night at a testimonial banquet for Judge Samuel Alschuler, marking his 20th year on the bench of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Judge Alschuler, without previous experience on the bench, was appointed by President Woodrow Wilson in 1915.

State Representative R. G. Crisberry, Murphysboro, a former sheriff of Jackson county, was named chairman of the legislative committee.

Historic St. Luke's Episcopal Church Badly Damaged by Fire Thursday Eve: Was City's Most Costly Blaze in Years

Church Damaged By Fire Believed to Have Had Inception in Wires in the Basement

Historic St. Luke's Episcopal church which was threatened with complete destruction by fire late Thursday afternoon. The blaze, starting in the basement, gutted the eastern part of the interior of the structure, doing damage estimated at about $5,000. The beautiful stone structure was built in the fall of 1872, the parish being organized in 1836 by the Rev. James DePuy, sent to the Rock river valley as a missionary at large.

The historic St. Luke's Episcopal church, Third street and Peoria avenue, was in danger of total destruction for almost an hour last evening, when fire raged within the heavy stone walls, causing damage which it is estimated will not exceed $5,000 and which loss is covered by insurance. The fire was discovered by Dwight Fulmer, who passing the church and noting the flames, ran to the city hall where he gave the alarm, at 5:33, and it was an hour later before the fire department had the fire under control. The fire was the worst that has occurred in Dixon during the past ten years, and attracted a huge crowd.

The flames apparently originated in the basement under the east end of the edifice and probably resulted from electric wiring. The fire ate its way through the floor beneath the altar and into the main auditorium. The flames then reached the ceiling and cut through the roof and for some time it appeared that the entire structure was doomed.

Three lines of hose were quickly laid and the fire department, assisted by volunteers, poured water into the structure and succeeded in confining the flames to the east end of the church, where the greatest damage was done. None of the large stained glass windows on the main floor were broken and the pipe organ was thought to have suffered very slight damage. The main damage appeared to be confined to the altar and basement, where the supporting timbers were so badly burned and charred that they will have to be replaced. A gas main leading into the basement was broken by the intense heat and this added to the difficulty of battling the flames until the gas could be shut off.

The entire neighborhood was in darkness for a time when linemen disconnected the electric service lines leading into the church. Firemen believed that the flames had been smoldering for some time, but no odor of smoke was detected a short time before by those attending a meeting which was held in the guild rooms in the basement of the church. Traffic was halted by the police on Third street between Peoria and Hennepin avenue for some time when cars and the crowd hampered the activities of the firemen. Cars were driven over the lines of hose and crowds gathered about the firemen, many attempting to enter the burning church.

Recurrent Outbreaks
Several times the flames broke out anew and the department remained at the scene until 7 o'clock before Chief William Mitchell announced that the flames were totally extinguished.

Rev. Fr. W. H. Ziegler of Elgin arch deacon of the Chicago diocese and representative of Bishop George Craig Stewart of Chicago, arrived in Dixon this morning to view the damage to the church, and to confer with Rev. Fr. B. Norman Burke, rector. After visiting the church the officer of the diocese expressed an opinion that the loss would considerably exceed the estimated $5,000 figure. He will also attend a special meeting of the vestry of the church called for this afternoon, to determine the temporary plans for the conducting of the church services and activities and also to decide upon a program for restoring the damaged edifice.

Rev. Fr. Burke expressed his appreciation to members of the fire department and to many others who rendered faithful service during the two hour period last evening during which the complete destruction of the church was feared.

ITALIAN PEACE TERMS "VAGUE"

Peace Makers are Facing Wide Gap in Efforts to End Warfare

London, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Authoritative sources said today that Premier Mussolini's demands upon Ethiopia now are less than heretofore but there is still a wide gap to be bridged and considerable time probably will be necessary to narrow this gap.

These sources said that Il Duce's original demands for the military domination of the whole of Ethiopia are "out of the picture for the moment."

In reliable quarters, the Italian peace developments were characterized as "soundings of the vaguest kind" between Premier Laval of France and Mussolini. The British government, it was stated, is being kept informed in the role of an observer.

It was said that the developments were as yet so nebulous as to give no reason for optimism or for expecting that anything tangible would be worked out in the near future.

It was understood that Laval, as a result of nearly two weeks' sounding out of Mussolini, has transmitted a report to the British government but that it indicated nothing substantial or practical had yet been broached.

HAILE IS CONFIDENT

Addis Ababa, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Ethiopia's former minister of war, Fitawrari Birru, who was once expelled and then pardoned by Emperor Haile Selassie, rode triumphantly into the capital today at the head of an army.

Riding with dash and abandon, the 10,000 shrieking Kaffa tribal warriors rushed in review past the Kings of Kings, who stood admiringly on a balcony of his palace, apparently more confident in the strength of his armies than at any time since the war with Italy began.

Emperor Haile Selassie also reviewed 10,000 Galla swordsmen under Dedjazmach Aptemariam Gabreghiaher.

"Oh, emperor, give us modern rifles so that he may slaughter our enemies," shouted the warriors, throwing down their old flintlocks and blunderbusses before the Lion of Judah.

War Summary

By The Associated Press

The King of England, proroguing Parliament, bespoke his "gravest concern" over the situation in Africa.

To the shrieks and sobs of their women and with the blessing of their church on their colors, 12,000 well-equipped Ethiopian soldiers moved from Harar to the southern front.

Premier Mussolini announced he would withdraw 15,000 soldiers from Libya, the re-enforcement of whose defense annoyed Great Britain.

Emperor Haile Selassie expressed increased confidence in the ability of his soldiers to withstand the Italian challenge.

Rome reported the occupation on the southern front of Geledi and "various villages" on the banks of the Shibell river.

A Reuters (British) dispatch said more than 200 bombs were dropped by Italian fliers on Gabbard, (not shown on maps) wounding seven Ethiopian soldiers.

Peace talk was heard in Paris, London and Rome, but it was indefinite and vague.

President Roosevelt promised a prompt reply to inquiries about the American attitude toward League of Nations sanctions.

The League announced that three more countries—making nine in all—had accepted economic sanctions against Italy, the three being South Africa, Australia and Liberia.

Ferris Hinds, 80, Passed to His Rest

Aged Former Dixonite Believes Charles Harvey, Also Once Resident of Dixon, was Murdered

Terrance Harvey, 729 Englewood avenue, Chicago, a former resident of Dixon, today enlisted the aid of Sheriff Ward Miller and State Attorney Edward Jones in the solution of what he believes to be a murder mystery. Coming to Dixon yesterday he conferred with Chief of Police Van Bibber who referred him to the state's attorney and sheriff.

Mr. Harvey, who several years ago served as coachman for the Page family, is seeking to learn the whereabouts of Charles Harvey, a son of the late Michael Harvey of this city, of whom no word has been heard for the past six years, and whom the aged former Dixon resident believes was murdered. Charles Harvey was reported to be about 35 years of age and at times used the name of George O'Brien. According to Mr. Harvey's story to Sheriff Miller this morning the missing man disappeared from Detroit, Mich., about six years ago. Sheriff Miller today communicated with the detective bureau at Detroit, seeking what information could be gleaned from that source and at noon expected to take in custody a man reported to be residing in Amboy, for questioning.

Mt. Vernonite Found Not Guilty of Murder

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Oct. 25.—(AP)—After deliberating five hours, a jury in Circuit court here returned a verdict shortly before midnight acquitting Harmon Otis Braddock, of the murder of Rosier Green, a Blufford farmer who was slain December 8, 1930, during an attempted hold-up.

Wednesday night, died early today.

Otto Berman and Abraham Landau, alias Leo Frank, the other member of the Schultz's party, preceded their leader in death.

Martin Krompfer, who met a hail of bullets in a New York barber shop about two hours after the Newark shooting, was in a critical condition in a New York hospital.

New York detectives pressed their search for Albert Stein, 21-year-old mobster suspected of several recent killings in the outbreak of gang warfare in the metropolitan area.

Seek Powerful Thug
Charles Luciano, described by New York officials as "the most powerful gangster in Manhattan," also was sought for questioning.

Police believed the attempt to wipe out the Schultz gang was a move or rival mobs to gain control of rackets estimated to produce as much as $100,000,000 a year in revenue in the metropolitan district.

Deputy Police Chief John Haller of Newark, after ordering Mrs. Flegenhimer held in the women's jail at police headquarters overnight, said the widow would be questioned "on apparent discrepancies in what she has told us."

"We are not satisfied her story of her movements is correct," Haller said, adding that she admitted she talked with Schultz in the East Park Street tavern an hour before the gun battle.

Shaw-Green Wedding Transferred to Saint Peter's, Grand Detour

Because of damage by fire to St. Luke's Episcopal church in Dixon, the Shaw-Green wedding which was to be solemnized there Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, will be held at St. Peter's in Grand Detour, instead, at the same hour with Father Burke, rector of St. Luke's, officiating.

Buffet Supper Will Honor Shaw-Green Bridal Party Tonight

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Shaw are entertaining at their home in Bluff Park with a buffet supper in honor of the bridal party for the Shaw-Green wedding, which is to take place at 9 o'clock in historic St. Peter's Episcopal church in Grand Detour in the morning, with Reverend Father Burke officiating at the service.

Miss Ellagwen Shaw, daughter of the Ben Shaws, will become the bride of Harold A. Green of St. Louis, Mo.

The guests at the supper are limited to the members of the bridal party, and the immediate family.

At a large beautifully appointed table the bridal party is to be seated and at smaller tables, equally attractive, the relatives will be served. Crystal candle holders and white chrysanthemums grace the tables, the bridal table being centered with a large taper, bearing a huge white bow.

Luncheon for Kendall Club Members

Mrs. Simon Storer, of Syracuse, N. Y., has been visiting Dixon friends, being the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Durkes and Miss Grace Crawford. Mrs. Storer, formerly Miss Nell Weed, was a resident of Dixon with her family when her father, George M. Weed, was superintendent of Borden Milk Co. here.

Mrs. Storer was the guest of honor at a delightful little luncheon on Wednesday given by Miss Grace Crawford for former members of the Kendall Club, at one time a most active club of young women of Dixon. The Kendall club did much good charitable work and their dances were outstanding social events of the year, which they gave to swell the coffers of the organization. Especially active at Christmas time were Kendall club members.

Mrs. E. G. Beckey of Chicago, the former Dorothy Lennon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Barre Lennon, was an out of town guest at the luncheon. Autumn foliage and flowers lent a colorful note to the decorations.

FAMILY UNITY

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

"I will help two of your faithful readers," a letter tells me, "if you will clarify one question, since we hold opposite views. Have we any obligation to self that supercedes devotion to family unity?"

No details are given, and an abstract issue is dull. But other letters give examples aplenty, telling of twisted selves and tangled lives making family unity a thing difficult, if not impossible, to keep.

Family unity, of course, is a very precious thing, and one should suffer much rather than break it. But we can carry such loyalty too far, trying in vain to keep a unity which has already been blighted.

To have any meaning, family unity must be a union of hearts and lives in mutual respect and love. But there are conditions of decay, of malicious perversion, and infidelity, which kill respect and love.

Here is a letter from a woman whose husband has taken to drink, and she has endured things unbelievable. She does not want to break up her home, but degrades tion alas, can mean disintegration at last.

There are malignancies of disposition, outrages against personality, mordant hostilities, and cruelties of behavior far worse than physical violence—they not only break family unity, they destroy it.

Or, between parent and child—worse still, between in-laws—terrible things may happen, not only breaking family unity, but blasting the lives of human beings. My mail is full of such sad wrecks.

No wonder a novelist speaks of "the snake of selfishness," of a sacrifice of self so abject that it defeats itself, by making others so selfish and callous and cruel that they take it for granted.

No, family unity, bought at such price, is hardly worth the saving—if only because it is one-sided and not unity at all. Doormats are useful in their place, but they do not make good members of a family.

Not many of us, however, are in such plight; we may have tension in our homes at times, as most people do, without reaching a breaking point. A little clear-thinking and kind-feeling puts it right.

Happy Meeting of Am. War Mothers At Hoover Home

The all day meeting of the American War Mothers held at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Maude Hoover was one of pleasure and was attended by a majority of the members and several visitors. A bounteous dinner was served at the noon hour after which the president held the business meeting.

The Mothers are presenting a flag to the King school Friday, Oct. 25 and also to the Stony Point school as soon as the teachers are ready to accept it.

Mrs. Clea W. Bunnell gave a very interesting report of the National convention held in Washington, D. C. showing several pictures of prominent places. One of the pictures was Washington's monument and the cherry trees in blossom. Mrs. Hannah Miller was awarded this and thanked the donor for the same.

The next regular meeting of the Mothers will be held with Mrs. Bunnell, Nov. 1st, and an election of officers. All members are requested to be present and all Mothers of World War Veterans are welcome at any of the meetings. This will be another all day meeting and picnic rules will be observed.

Mrs. Bunnell, Department President, is planning to visit several chapters and hold group meetings and will be accompanied by her state secretary, Mrs. Lucy R. Eastman, Mrs. Eliza Brand, president of the local chapter, has several plans of interest for the good of the local chapter and under her efficient management will be a benefit to all concerned.

Bernice Van Der Vries of Wilmette To Speak Saturday

The American Citizenship Department of the Dixon Woman's club is very pleased to announce that Representative Bernice T. Van der Vries of Wilmette will speak on "Adventures in Citizenship" Saturday afternoon, Oct. 26 at 2:30 in the Christian church. Miss Vera Mae Poole is chairman of this department.

Those who have heard Mrs. Van der Vries say that she is a most interesting speaker. She succeeded Mrs. Harold Lickes in the House of Representatives in the State Legislature.

The members of the League of Women Voters are asked to be guests of the Dixon Woman's club for this meeting.

PALMYRA UNIT TO MEET TUESDAY

The Palmyra Unit of Home Bureau will hold an all day meeting Tuesday at the Sugar Grove church with a picnic dinner. This is a special meeting and the lesson on "Foundation and Sleeve Fitting" will be given. Miss Joanne Russell will be the hostess. Members are asked to be provided with two pieces of colored paper, scissors, pencil, ruler and pins.

PEORIA AVENUE CLUB TO MEET MONDAY

The Peoria Avenue Reading club will meet Monday afternoon with Miss Geisenheimer, 212 Ottawa avenue.

Dept. Conference Caravan Legion Aux. Oct. 31

Put on your best bib and tucker for the Thirteenth District is going to have the honor of welcoming the Department Conference Caravan at Dixon, Oct. 31st, at 10 o'clock in the American Legion hall. The purpose of this meeting is to have the members meet and get acquainted with the department officers and chairmen to have each department chairmen present their year's work directly to the district and unit chairmen.

The Dixon Auxiliary officers, chairman and members old and new are urged to be present as this will be very instructive as well as interesting.

The ladies making up the caravan group are: Mrs. W. G. Suthers, Dept. Pres.; Mrs. Fenton Saliday, First Vice Pres. and membership chairman; Mrs. A. A. Pantelis, Sec. Vice Pres. and National Defense chairman; Mrs. Mildred R. Knowles, secretary; Mrs. E. B. Dowd, rehabilitation chairman; Mrs. Edward Oetter, child welfare chairman; and Mrs. R. L. Floyd, Americanism chairman.

The American Legion Auxiliary dues are payable at any time, it is hoped as many as the members that can will pay their dues now.

Would it not be wonderful to be 100 per cent by conference day? Dues will be accepted by the membership chairman, Mrs. Viola Strub.

The ladies of the Dixon Unit are sponsoring the luncheon for this Caravan conference and will be served at 12 o'clock. Members are please requested to make reservations three days prior to the conference, same to be made to the president of the local auxiliary, Mrs. Clara Traynor, 1717 Center Ave. Phone No. K859.

The Ideal Club Enjoyed Halloween Party on Wednesday

The Ideal club met at the home of Mrs. Howard Beam, Wednesday afternoon. This meeting was in the form of a Halloween party, all coming dressed in costume.

The Gypsy Queen was there, her escort being a gentleman from the south; Pocahontas, with her feathers so gay, and wrapped in an Indian blanket; a maiden of the gay 90's; the Hoosier Schoolmaster, and Peter Pan, were all represented.

Roll call was responded to by Halloween stories and stunts.

From the study book on Canada Mrs. Goeke gave a chapter on the old mines of Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, and the quaint city of Quebec.

The house was very pretty with Halloween decorations, and bouquets of chrysanthemums.

The hostess served tempting refreshments which were also in keeping with Halloween, this concluding a very delightful afternoon.

Would You BEAT EGGS in a Flat Pan ?

OF COURSE NOT! Neither then should you do your washing in a flat tub. The same principle of efficiency that applies to the mixing bowl applies to the washing machine tub. WHICH EXPLAINS why the Speed Queen with its exclusive Bowl-Shaped Tub is 25 per cent more efficient than flat bottom tub washers. Actual tests have proved this.

FRAZIER-LEMKE LAW VOID

The United States court of the Southern district of Illinois at Peoria has held void the Frazier-Lemke law as amended by the last congress. This law is one that is intended to keep the mortgagee out of possession of his property in default of payment by the mortgagor.

In its original form the law was passed up to President Roosevelt along with the railway pension act in the last days of a session of congress. It was rumored that the president might veto them, but he signed them and passed the buck to the supreme court. If there should be any unpopularity attached to standing by the constitution, he preferred it be shouldered by the court, and it was.

The supreme court of the United States held that the Frazier-Lemke mortgage law violated the fifth amendment to the constitution, one of the articles of the bill of rights, prohibiting taking of property without due process of law.

In ordinary processes, the subjects of debts and mortgages and tax sales and foreclosures are under jurisdiction of the states. The federal constitution, however, gives the congress authority to pass bankruptcy legislation in order to give it uniformity, and under that authority the Fraziers and Lemkes of North Dakota undertook to remodel the laws of mortgages and mortgagees in a manner contrary to law and custom and the federal constitution.

When the supreme court of the United States overruled this legislation, the Dakotans revised the defunct law and sought to give it new life. It has lost in the first lap of the race through the courts. Of course, there are the circuit court of appeals and the supreme court yet in the course.

Partisan politics of federal judges seldom is discussed, because our federal judges, secure in their independence with life terms, have risen above such matters in most instances, but recently in efforts of New Dealers to discredit the courts that have put them in a bad light, the party issue has been raised.

In this case, however, nothing of the sort will be said, for the order finding the act unconstitutional was entered by Judge J. Earl Major, who only recently was a member of congress, and while there voted for all the New Deal measures. He had left congress before this mortgage bill was enacted.

This was not a White House measure, but was in accord with the White House philosophy of new ways of thinking about who shall have possession of property in which two men have invested money.

CLEAN FUN SUCCEEDS

On one day a Chicago newspaper published the article by Sidney Smith, creator of The Gumps, declaring that clean fun is the basis of successful newspaper comics. On the next day the newspaper carried news of the closing of one of Chicago's leading theaters on order of Mayor Kelly, because in this day of stage obscenity and indecency and profanity the play was regarded as unfit to be open to the public.

The theater of today pretends that its public demands smut, so it loads its productions down with it. Creators of comic strips prove that the smut is thrown before the public because the producers are of that mind and not because it is necessary to success.

Down through a third of a century have come the colored comics and the daily comic strip. When they were initiated, stage comics were on about a level with them. There was smut for the smutty, but on had to know where to go to find it. Today one has to know where to go and when to go to miss it. Will Rogers demonstrated time and again that clean pictures draw millions of dollars to the box-offices. Creators of comics demonstrate from one's year's end to another that clean comics can hold the devotion of a world.

Artists serving newspapers are unanimous in clinging to cleanliness. Some magazines have been established especially for the purpose of circulating that which goes for comedy on the stage of today, but no newspaper artist in the United States is breaking over the line. Fabulous sums are paid to these men who give us a daily bit of fun, which proves that smut is not necessary to success, but is a product of the producer.

In the story of his life, published by the Chicago Tribune on occasion of his tragic death, Sidney Smith emphasized the foregoing point.

Dragging out livery stable jokes of a quarter of a century or more ago and doing them over for a theater audience is not comedy, is not artistic, and it only proves that the business is in the wrong channel.

The public will get what it wants, but it won't bother much about the legislator who votes against its wishes. It figures that one legislator is about as bad as another. —Franklin Moore, Harrisburg, Pa., addressing hotel men's convention.

Next year may be too late to prevent the next war. Today is the time to create a will-to-peace that will not be swept away by war cries that may sound within the next six months.—Bishop Francis J. McConnell, New York.

Marriage and careers don't mix. But if I ever did try to mix them I wouldn't marry a handsome man nor an athlete because the risks are too great.—Judith Allen, screen actress.

There is only room for two "isms" in this country. They are Patriotism and Americanism.—M. A. Harlan, national commander, Disabled American Veterans.

DAILY HEALTH

RHEUMATIC HEART DISEASE

Promptness in the diagnosis and treatment of rheumatic fever does not always prevent involvement of the heart. But the prospects for success are better the earlier the treatment begins.

Unfortunately, rheumatic fever does not always develop in an acute and prominent form. Indeed, it is an insidious disease which may begin so gradually and develop so slowly, that before its presence has been recognized, irreparable damage may be done. There are some adults with unmistakable "rheumatic hearts" who never recall having had rheumatic fever.

Still, there are certain symptoms which, if they are not invariably evidence of the presence of rheumatic fever, always warrant its search and positive exclusion.

Following is a description of the so-called "rheumatic child." It is pale and anemic, listless and tired. The child usually sleeps and eats poorly, and appears to be constitutionally feeble and toxic. The child may complain of a variety of pains, which are made worse by exercise or bad weather. Warmth, sunshine and rest tend to relieve its pains.

Not infrequently the observant parent finds that the child complains most of its pains when it suffers from a sore throat.

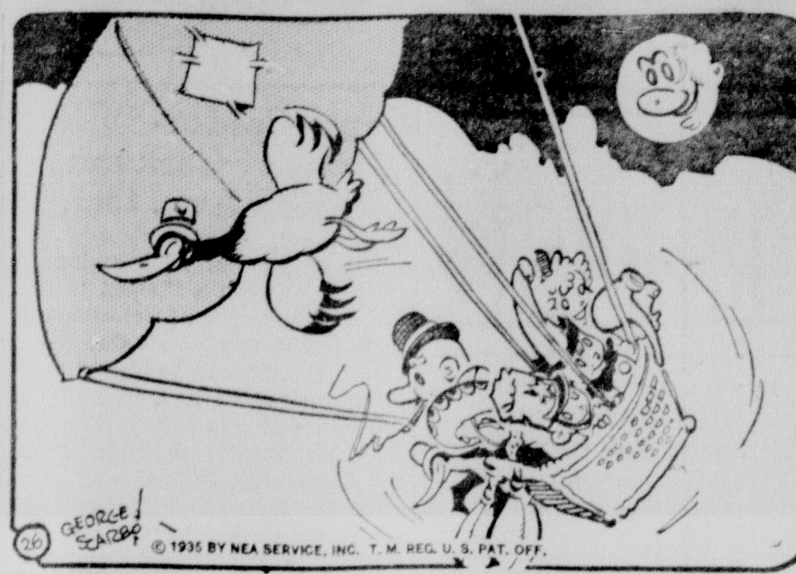

Since rheumatic infection not infrequently involves the nervous system the symptoms may center about this phase of the child's activities.

The loss of weight, fever, and sweating naturally suggest the presence of some disease of the infectious variety.

From these factors it may be seen that the early signs and symptoms of rheumatic fever are not unlike those of other disease conditions not uncommon in children. Nevertheless whenever any of these symptoms appear they bear witness to the fact that something is wrong. A child showing any of the above listed characteristics requires medical attention.

THE TINYMITES

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The big balloon bag swayed around as, slowly, it rose from the ground. "Oh, this is fun," cried Goldy. "Soon we'll be away up high."

"I'll crane my neck for all I'm worth to watch the things below, on earth. The fields look just like checkerboards when you're up in the sky."

"Say, I would hate to fall from here. 'Twould be the end of me, I fear," said Duncy. "Let me in the middle, I'll feel safe you see."

"When I look down, I lose my head, so I guess I'll look up, instead. It's funny how just gazing makes you dizzy as can be."

The old balloon man smiled and cried, "A bird has hopped in by my side. I guess he wants a long ride, too. This likely is a thrill."

Then Dotty stroked the bird and he seemed just as tickled as could be. Said Dotty, "He is tired of flying. He had had his fill."

They floated on for quite a while and then wee Scouty, with a smile, said "Look, the moon is coming up, and it is smiling, too."

"Oh, he's a friendly fellow, miss. He seldom sees balloons like this," replied the old balloon man. "He is pleased at something new."

Then dark clouds gathered over head. One of the Tinies shortly cired "I think a storm is brewing. Maybe we'll get soaking wet."

"However, I don't mind a bit, as long as we can weather it. Why worry over anything that hasn't happened yet?"

Soon thunder rolled and lightning flashed. Then through the big balloon bag crashed a lightning streak, and Goldy said, "Oh, how long will it last?"

Another Tiny cried, "We're doomed! The bag broke when the lightning zoomed. All the gas soon will leak out and we'll start falling fast."

(Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

(The balloon man saves the Tinies in the next story.)

ROCHELLE NEWS

By SWEN STANGLEY

ROCHELLE—G. A. Lazier & Son purchased the Evans Seed Company and will take over the business Dec. 1st. G. A. Lazier will be in charge at the Rochelle office, while his son, Harold will continue to work the Lazier farm, north of town. Mr. Lazier needs no introduction to the Rochelle people as he is one of the best known agricultural leaders of northern Illinois, and is at present district director of the Illinois Farmers Institute, a member of the Ogle County Farm Bureau and an active farmer for many years. This experience should make him an ideal seed man. Lazier & Son will specialize in the raising of Hybrid Seed Corn, which has proved of remarkable value in this section. The U. S. Department of Agriculture corn variety test plots are located on the Lazier farm, with Dr. J. P. Holbert, superintendent. Much valuable information will be available to farmers at the new seed company.

The Stocking Company and Tim Whitney, a car salesman, asked $10,000 damages from Mr. and Mrs. Edward Engelkes, Ogle farm residents. Mr. Engelkes and his wife, Sallie filed cross complaints asking personal injury damages from the plaintiffs to a jury by Judge Harry Edwards of Dixon. All four parties were freed of blame in the auto accident on which the suit was based.

Attorneys Paul O'Neil and E. J. Tilton are now located in the offices formerly occupied by Atty. W.

B. McHenry in the People's Loan & Trust Company building.

Paul O'Neil, who was recently admitted to the bar, and who is a graduate from Notre Dame University Law School, secured his license to practice law in Illinois, October 19, 1935. He was born and raised in Rochelle and has a host of friends who wish him much success. P. J. Tilton has been in the law profession in Rochelle since 1907.

Work has been started this week on a building which will be erected on North 12th Street by Francis DeLaney. Mr. DeLaney plans to move from his present location on Ninth street as soon as the new building is completed.

Chief of Police Wm. Hungertord has announced the appointment of fifty special policemen to guard practical pranksters on Halloween. We are informed these special deputies will be in plain clothes and will be stationed in all sections of the city. Persons who are found destroying property will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. A word to the wise should be sufficient. Parties caught soaping windows of stores or autos will be arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and will be arraigned before the police court.

The following pupils have an average of 90 or above in their major subjects for the first six weeks:

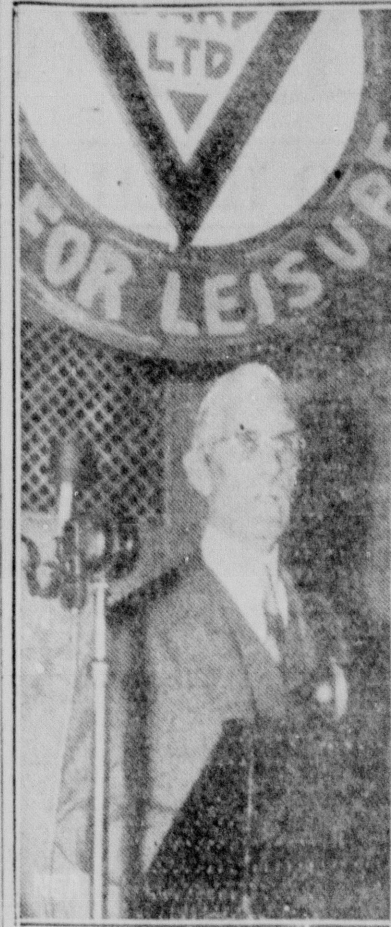

Betty Allen, Ruth Cassell, John Campbell, Marge Davis, John

Drummond, Marion Duell, Robert Fell, Melvin Hetland, Charles Harris, Harold Hahn, Joy Isaac, Virginia Kepner, Carolyn, Kiewin, Margaret Knight, Jean McEachern, Hector McDaniel, Dan Tilton, Pauline Trego, Irma Zimmerman.

Another delightful meeting was held by the Rochelle Garden Club Friday afternoon, Oct. 18, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Osse. There were a large number of members and guests present who enjoyed hearing Mrs. Cobb talk on "Bulbs for Fall Planting", which included the planting, culture, etc. of bulbs which still can be planted this season. Mrs. Osborne read an article on "Chrysanthemums", and Mrs. Stocking one on "Lilies". Both articles can be found in Better Homes and Gardens and contain all the practical knowledge on these subjects each gardener should know. During the social hour delicious refreshments were served, with decorations in keeping with Halloween.

The 160-acre Orrin J. Randall farm, located on the Lincoln Highway, two miles west of Rochelle, will be sold at public auction on Thursday, Oct. 31st. The sale will start at 2:00 P. M. with C. E. Kepner, auctioneer. C. E. Gardner, executor of the last will and testament of Orrin J. Randall, deceased, will have charge of the sale. This is a nicely improved farm, with deep, rich black soil, and will make an excellent buy. The sale will take place on the farm, described as the northeast quarter of Section 28, Township 40 North, range 1 east of the 3rd P. M.

The ladies of the Catholic church will serve their annual chicken dinner Friday afternoon, October 27. Dinner will begin at 12 o'clock noon and will continue until all are served. Menu: Fried chicken, mashed potatoes, vegetable salad, pickles, cranberries, rolls, pies and coffee. Everybody is welcome.

The Rochelle Fire Department were called out twice Wednesday night, the first call was for an automobile fire on South Eighth St. The car is the property of Frances Doner and the damage was small. The second fire at about 10 o'clock was at the home of Glenn Osborne. The fire had started under the stairs on the second floor and was put out with little damage.

The American Legion announces a grand opening-Mardi Gras dance at the Woodman hall on Saturday evening, Nov. 2. Day, Holland's is celebrated 10-piece band, will furnish the music and there, will be hats, horns and many other favors. The proceeds will go to the benefit of the Junior Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Post No. 403. Come and have a mighty good time.

Dr. C. H. Schaller, and Mr. and

Mrs. O. Hall, who have been spending a vacation in the New England states and Canada, returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. A. R. Bogue entertained a hundred children at her home on Tuesday evening in honor of her daughter, Ramona, who was celebrating her birthday anniversary. Refreshments and games were enjoyed by all and Miss Ramona Bogue received many beautiful gifts.

SOUTH DIXON

By Mrs. Lautzenheiser.

South Dixon.—Mrs. Noah Beard returned home from Tennessee, where she had gone, owing to the illness of her mother.

Miss Dorothy Moore and two brothers spent a day recently at the John Paterson home.

The members of the S. Dixon Com. Club were entertained in a delightful all day's meeting on Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. Walter Ortgiesen, Highland avenue, Dixon.

Miss Lucy Hazard former S. Dixon teacher, of Mt. Morris, spent the week end with the Roy Fisher and Arnold Götzel families.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Götzel returned home from southern Illinois, where they had been called on account of the death of the latter's mother. Sympathy of former friends and neighbors is extended Mrs. Götzel.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lautzenheiser spent Sunday at Lowell Park.

Mr. and Mrs. August Grohens and two daughters were entertained on Sunday at the Edward O'Malley home in Dixon.

Wedding bells will soon ring merrily for a South Dixon young lady. Guess who!

Joseph Brechon of Chicago spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Brechon.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brechon and family were Sunday guests at the J. P. Brechon home.

Friends of Mrs. Frank Selfkin will be pleased to hear that she is steadily improving from the effects of a serious operation in the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital.

Mrs. J. Lautzenheiser was a recent caller at the Albert Beard home.

Miss Marguerite Healy visited at the Lloyd Hoyle home on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Roy Glessner returned home from a visit with Chicago relatives.

Parents Lose Boy Film Star

The two winsome girls in the top photo may have their famous brother, Freddie Bartholomew, child film actor, for an occasional playmate, but Freddie, it appears, will not become "one of the family." For the children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil L. Bartholomew, shown below in their London home, lost their fight to regain Freddie's custody when a Los Angeles court named as his temporary guardian his aunt Mylicent, who has chaperoned his sensational rise in Hollywood, and with whom the 11-year-old prodigy has lived since he was 3. The parents charged the aunt had abducted Freddie.

Strangulation was Cause Girl's Death

Vermillion, S. D., Oct. 25.—(AP)

Lela Halvorson, 24, Madison, S. D., school teacher, found dead in a Leola hotel room Sunday, was choked to death, Dr. J. C. Ohlmacher, pathologist at the University of South Dakota, reported.

Dr. Ohlmacher's conclusion was announced after examination of contents of the girl's stomach. It was in contradiction to the belief of state department of justice agents who said they believed the girl had not been strangled but that she had been killed in some other manner.

Miss Halvorson's nude body was found in her room at Leola Sunday morning, a few hours after she had reached there from her home at Madison to substitute as a teacher in a rural school. W. S. Gordon, head of the bureau of investigation of the state department of justice, said she had been criminally assaulted.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

WOODPECKER MAN

TO young stamp collectors, Thoth, Ibis-headed scribe of the gods, measurer of time and inventor of numbers, is best known as the "woodpecker man." He was god of wisdom and magic, mouthpiece of the other gods and arbiter of their disputes. In the judgment hall of Osiris he is represented as weighing the heart or soul.

And so it is fitting that Thoth should be shown on this stamp, which was issued at the time of the world geographic congress at Cairo, in 1925, as he carves the name of King Fuad of Egypt, who put Egypt's educational work on a modern basis.

OZE SIMMONS IS WORRYING ZUPPKE TEAM

Slippery Negro Removes Doubt of Ability

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 25.—They say that Oze Simmons, Iowa's fleet-footed Negro halfback, is modest and reticent but that he does admit he is "kinda tricky" on the gridiron.

This "tricky" business is just what is worrying Bob Zuppke as they administer the final polish to the Illinois in preparation for the invasion of a powerful Iowa football team that tasted an inane victory over Andy Kerr's Red Raiders from Colgate and found it so sweet that they hanker after a triumph over Illinois.

Oze was putting it mildly when he conceded that he was "tricky," for against Colgate with the Hawkeyes trailing 6 to 0 and two minutes of the first half left to play, he took a lateral pass from a teammate while racing at full speed, twisted and squirmed out of the clutches of four Colgate players at the sidelines and ran 63 yards for a touchdown.

May Spell Illini Doom. A performance like this Saturday night might well spell doom for the Illini and that is why all week Zuppke has been striving to build up a defense for the agile Negro. Leo Stasica, fast freshman from Rockford, has been impersonating him, as Coach Doug Mills' freshmen pound away at the varsity with Hawkeye strategies.

But it is hard to prepare against the attacks of a halfback who is likely to defy all the tenets of the gridiron game and get away with it. Equipped with dazzling speed and hip action that is highly reminiscent, to say the least, of the master back, Red Grange, Oze can do the unexpected.

"Once past the line of scrimmage, the 20-year-old Texas Negro becomes a swiftness, dancing, whirling master of gridiron footwork," writes Eric Wilson of Iowa. "His undulating progress down the field becomes a series of hair-breadth escapes. Often he seems cornered by tacklers but as he swings along, he stops, stands still, gives a flirt of his hips, and a few mincing steps or a quick flurry of side-slipping hops and is off full stride in an opposite direction."

"The colored lad often holds the ball in one huge hand," Wilson continues. "He waves it to the front and side, almost in the face of the tackler. But that isn't bravado. He says the motions help him to retain his balance for the stops, starts, sways and sprints. And he hasn't fumbled yet in 1935."

Coach Mills, who has brought first-hand reports of the uncanny ability of the Hawkeye halfback to Bob Zuppke, says that Oze in addition to all his other talents has the best stiff arm in warding off tacklers that he has ever seen.

Started Like House Afire. Oze started out last season as a sophomore like a house afire. Against Northwestern he tore off 166 yards in 24 trials from scrimmage, 124 yards returning seven punts and 19 yards bringing back one kickoff. He was hailed as a second Grange, which is a heavy burden to carry. Then Iowa's best blockers were crippled and Oze

More Entrants Enlist Names in Hallowe'en Bouts

Boxing on Hallowe'en seems to be a plan that is developing like a snowball rolling down hill.

Today's list of entrants would indicate that the proposal to hold bouts either indoors or outdoors on that night should be adopted in totem. Harry Donoho, age 12, and weighing 116 pounds wants a bout. He lives at 803 South Ottawa. Billy Williams age 13, weighs 104 pounds, and he would like to enter the proposed matches. His residence is the Cement Plant Hotel. Alexander Williams, age 14, weighing 114 pounds and also residing at the Cement Plant Hotel is entered.

They weren't so sure about Oze when this season started but his exploits against Colgate have removed all doubt. Against South Dakota previously he had returned a punt 51 yards for a touchdown, made another by a 60 yard run after receiving a lateral and blocked and tackled like a demon.

On top of his long run for a touchdown on Colgate, Simmons showed his line smashing ability when he plunged from the 1-yard line for the Hawkeye's winning score. In 20 trials he gained 120 yards from scrimmage and was a factor in breaking up Colgate's passes.

Weights 180 Pounds. Oze weighs 180 pounds, ten more than he did a year ago and stands 5 feet 11 inches. He will be 21 years old next June. At Terrill high school in Ft. Worth, Texas, he won 11 letters in four sports, football, basketball, baseball and track. He was state Negro 100-yard champion in '09.8. The fact that Gordon, Negro jump star, was a student at Iowa is said to have turned the thoughts of Oze and his brother, Don, a reserve end, to Iowa.

"The game struggle of Oze and his brother against scholastic odds is a story of dogged perseverance," Eric Wilson writes. "Their high school preparation was none too solid but they stuck at it, although they had to attend summer school to become eligible. Their work improved until last year they were doing above average work in all their subjects."

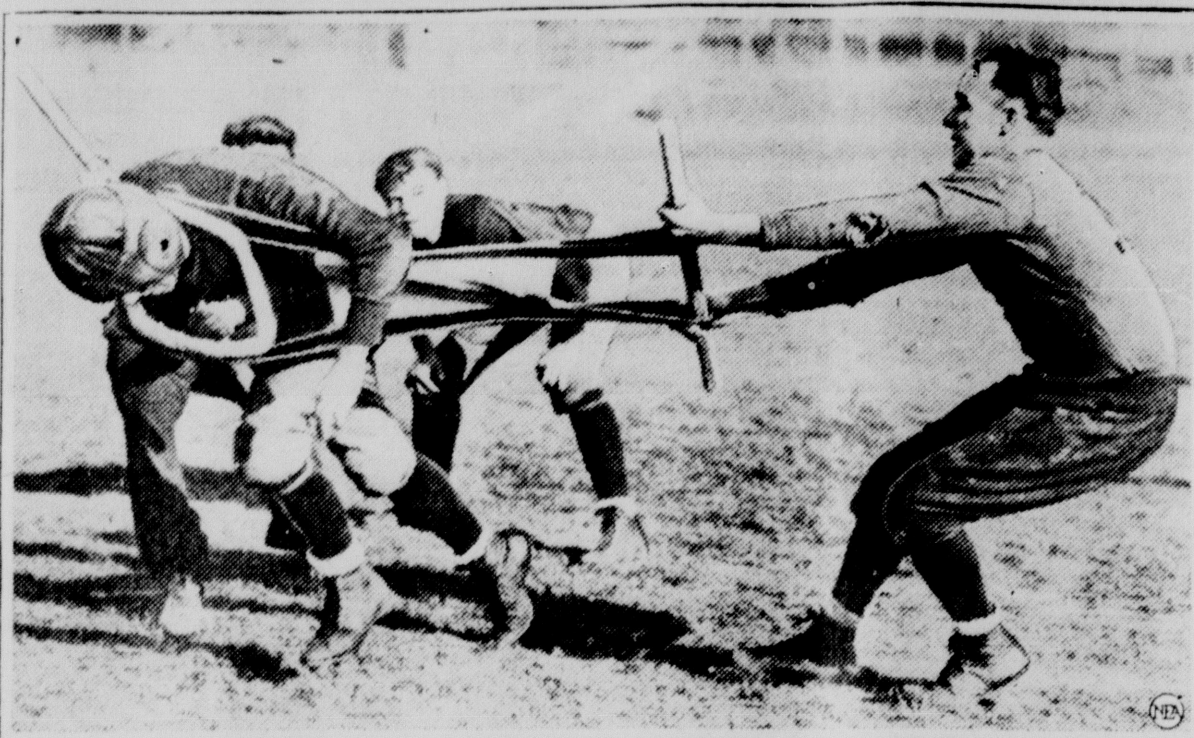

Interest White Hot. Interest in the battle with the Hawkeyes is at white heat. The game is universally considered to be the headline in the middle-west this week and the leading sports writers from Chicago and other cities are picking it out for their weekly pilgrimage. Several sound news reels will cover the game which will be broadcast by six radio stations, the largest number that ever put any Illinois home game on the air.

NEW WAY TO HOLD THAT LINE

Here is something new in football training device. Coach Van Why, of Pontiac, Mich., High School, uses a broad canvas belt, with a hole in its center, as a means of teaching his backfield aspirants how to pick holes. The belt is reinforced with heavy tapes, the ends of which are attached to strong sticks held by assistant coaches. The hole is padded about the edges, and is just large enough to permit a player to drive his head through. He is supposed to shoot through the hole at top speed. Van Why says the device works.

CATS PRIMED TO VANQUISH GOPHER TEAM

Upsets Probable All Along Big Ten Front

Chicago, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Big Ten football title picture will start to produce definite form tomorrow in at least two of the four battles on the conference schedule.

The top game of the list, Iowa's Hawkeyes at Illinois, will account for the elimination of one ranking contender. Minnesota makes its first conference start against Northwestern's improving eleven at Minneapolis, while Ohio State seeks its second league triumph at the expense of Indiana on the Hoosier's playground.

Iowa did not rate as a contender before the season started, lining up rather with the dark horses. But with Oze Simmons, star Negro back, regaining his old form, which played a big part in the Hawkeyes' stock-boosting triumph over Colgate, Ossie Solem's eleven moved up several notches. The Illini, with almost the same team that lost only one game last year, lost to Ohio University in an opening day upset, but quickly scrambled into favor by trouncing Southern California.

Gophers Lively Choice. Minnesota will be a lively choice to overcome Northwestern's hard working outfit, but with Glenn Seidel, its captain and quarterback, out because of an injury, might be the victim of a big upset. The Wildcats will be at full strength for the first time this season, and showing as much improvement as they did between their battles with Purdue and Ohio State, promise to give the 1934 champions a thorough testing.

Indiana will be keyed up for Ohio State, but does not figure to achieve anything so stunning as a

The day is likely to turn up a profit for either Chicago or Wisconsin in the form of a first conference victory. The Maroons, playing at home and possessed of a more varied attack, appear likely to cash in on the opportunity.

Purdue and Michigan, sharers of first place in the conference standings, will look after the intersectional business. The Boilermakers, undefeated and unscathed, should defeat Carnegie Tech at Lafayette, while Michigan, showing improvement weekly, probably will give Columbia a busy afternoon at New York.

GRID CHOICES SELECT IOWA; FAVORED ROLE

Notre Dame Rates as Top Dog First Time Today

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Leading with the well-bombed chin, this week's football schedule seems to line up like this:

Navy-Notre Dame: Notre Dame's conquest of Pitt removed the last lingering doubt as to the Ramblers' football stature this year. They get the call here but it probably will be a dog-fight. Navy, three-deep in nearly every position, lacks only a climax runner and that's where Notre Dame's tremendous backfield strength may provide the winning margin.

Yale-Army: On the toss of a coin, Yale, a smart, resourceful, fighting outfit, the Elis boast of an all-star backfield, two great ends in Larry Kelley and Bob Train, and one of the east's most deceptive attacks. Army, after a slow start, is coming along at a fine clip but the Cadet offense, so far, has been nothing to write home about.

Washington-Stanford: Even money and take your pick would be an easy way out of this one. If a choice must be made, we'll string along with the home team, Washington.

Georgia-Alabama: On the theory that Alabama may finally have decided to play up to its capabilities on two successive Saturdays, a tenuous ballot for the Crimson Tide.

L. S. U. Gets Call. Vanderbilt-Louisiana State: Another close one that may wind up in a basketball game, Louisiana State.

Holy Cross-Colgate: The Manhattan ties indicated Holy Cross has been over-rated. A vote for Colgate's Red Raiders.

Texas-Rice: Rice but we'd feel a lot better about it if they'd play this one at Houston instead of Austin.

Columbia-Michigan: Lou Little's football miracle man but he can't make football players out of straw, Michigan.

Cornell-Princeton: Gil Dobie's weakest teams usually can be counted on for one big surprise a season at least and this may be the spot for it. But slow-starting Princeton is the indicated choice.

Harvard-Dartmouth: Harvard, despite its clever defense against Holy Cross and Army, has shown nothing yet to indicate it will be a match for Dartmouth's high-scoring array.

Minnesota-Northwestern: The loss of Glenn Seidel will not help Minnesota but Bernie Bierman apparently can come up with bang-up replacements at will. A vote for Minnesota but Northwestern's tricky offense should make it close.

Iowa-Illinois: The spot for real football pyrotechnics. A vote of confidence in the Hawkeyes to stop Illinois' hocus-pocus as they did Colgate's.

Purdue Easily. Purdue-Carnegie: Purdue, comfortably.

Chicago-Wisconsin: Chicago.

Indiana-Ohio State: Bo McMillin may have been saving a few surprise packages for Ohio State's marauders but even so this looks like "no contest."

Nebraska-Oklahoma: If this came a little later in the season we'd be tempted to take Oklahoma. As it is, Nebraska to emerge from a slump.

North Carolina-Georgia Tech: Despite Tech's upset of Duke, a vote for North Carolina.

California-Southern California: California.

U. C. L. A.-Oregon: U. C. L. A.

Pitt-Penn State: State's improving but hardly enough to hold the Panthers.

Florida-Maryland: Eenie, meenie

GOLF SCHEDULE BEFORE GROUP FOR APPROVAL

Los Angeles, Oct. 25.—(AP)—California's final schedule for the 1935-36 winter golf season was before the Professional Golfers' association today for approval.

Backing down from their original demands to the national body of the P. G. A. the tournament sponsors yesterday instructed Olin Dutra, as the personal representative of George Jacobus, P. G. A. president, to tender a six weeks' schedule to that group's tournament committee with $27,500 in prize money.

The proposed schedule:

Dec. 27-30 — Pasadena $4000

Jan. 4-6 — Los Angeles $5000

Jan. 10-13 — Riverside $5000

Jan. 15-19 — San Diego $3000

Jan. 24-25 — Sacramento $3000

Feb. 1-3 — San Francisco $4500

Feb. 5-7 — Santa Catalina $5000

starting clubs ended the season—the league's club owners must decide today if they desire to continue with only six clubs, five of which are in Iowa, or to seek new material.

Selection of a successor as president to Dale Gear also was before the owners. Gear several weeks ago announced he would resign at today's meeting.

Princeton High Eleven Has Had Spotty Season

Some information regarding Princeton's Tigers, the high school football team that will invade Dixon Nov. 2 for the first time in years, was forthcoming today. Princeton plays DePue high Saturday this week in renewal of an old rivalry between the two cities.

Princeton has enjoyed a rather spotty season to date. Mendota downed Princeton 6 to 0 in the Tigers' opening game, their only tilt this fall with one of their prospective N. C. I. conference rivals. Princeton's membership becomes effective in the N. C. I. league next April.

The Tigers came back strong with a 20 to 0 victory over Wethersfield high of Kewanee and later staged their most impressive afternoon in action against Kewanee Community high 0 to 0. Another relapse was suffered at the hands of Ottawa 26 to 0, and a third loss to Hall, 19 to 0.

Coach Eric Strom's team has seemed weakest on blocking and tackling and Aldrich, star Tiger halfback is now on the sidelines. The Princeton line is replenished with plenty of veterans, however, and is heavy from end to end. The Tigers' performance against DePue Saturday will be watched by Dixon closely.

SHERIFFS PLAN DRIVE ON HOSS, COW RUSTLERS

Farmers Will Be Organized to Help Eradicate Farm Robbers

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Illinois sheriffs turned back a few pages in American history today and were ready to take out after "hoss and cow rustlers."

Declaring that Illinois farmers in the last year suffered losses of considerably more than $1,000,000 in raids on their property, the sheriffs completed their three-day annual convention by napping a determined drive against rustling and miscellaneous thievery.

Enthusiastic over the results of the protective measures taken for hanks in the state, the officers declared similar steps could virtually stamp out the farm raiders.

Governor Horner was ready to send state officers out to work with local authorities, saying there would be no let-up until the thieves had been driven out.

To Organize Residents
The sheriffs said there was no question but what the situation would be solved. Immediate steps will be taken to organize rural residents on the township basis into a law enforcing body under the direction of proper authorities.

All suspicious appearing strangers and circumstances will be reported. License numbers on trucks and automobiles will be closely checked. A method of recording with the state, individual branding-marks on livestock and fowls for assuring a legal title and easy identification will be put in effect. However, farmers will not use the western style of branding with a hot iron but will use the modern method of tattooing—livestock in the ear, and fowls in the wing.

Must Arouse Farmers
R. C. Saunders of Chicago, in charge of the joint campaign, ascribed the increase in farm thievery to high prices of livestock and poultry.

"The answer to the whole problem is arousing the farmers," Saunders said. "The object of our drive will be to organize them, arouse their determination to halt the depredations and get them mad. When they get really mad, the situation will be solved."

Dixon People Took Part in Service at Church in Sterling

A delegation of some thirty from the local Brethren church attended the evangelistic services now in progress at the Sterling Brethren church last night. The Dixon group had charge of the music and furnished the special music of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson had charge of the congregational singing. Mr. Thompson leading and Mrs. Thompson at the piano. Mrs. L. E. Sheller and Mrs. David Wade sang accompanied by Mrs. Ada Underwood on the piano, and the Krug sisters sang in their charming way to the delight of the large audience. Many compliments were given the Dixon people for their splendid help and they enjoyed the Christian fellowship and the opportunity of service in this way.

Dun-Bradstreet Weekly Review of Trade is Issued

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The recurrence of warm and unsettled weather "restricted the distribution of merchandise during the week," according to the weekly review of Dunn & Bradstreet issued today.

"Retailers in some parts of the country recorded the smallest totals in nearly two months, although the comparative figures of a year ago generally were exceeded," the survey said.

"Retail sales barely were on a par with those of the week preceding. When compared with the showing for the corresponding 1934 period, however, few losses were recorded, the estimated increase for the country over the 1934 totals ranging from 2 to 12 per cent."

PLAN HALTING SOLICITATION OF ATHLETES

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Dr. James H. Kirkland, in his 43rd year as chancellor of Vanderbilt University, set up "athletic ability" today as "a factor in student value."

"When the scholarships are passed around," he said, "and when loans are made, the student's athletic ability should be taken into account."

In order that these loans and scholarships shall not be stamped "salaries for athletic services," he proposes that their distribution be approved by college faculty members and trustees as well as the officers of athletic conferences.

He will discuss his ideas at the December meeting of the South-eastern conference.

Chancellor Kirkland believes that the giving of money to football players by alumni "can't be stopped absolutely."

"But the college can discourage such practice and can refuse to become a part of it," he said.

Dr. Kirkland, who has served Vanderbilt longer than any other contemporary has headed a college, said that "many of the evils can be eliminated if all transactions involving the lending of money or giving of scholarships to players are brought into the open."

FOUR CUBS AND MORIARTY MUST PAY FOR NAMES

Judge Landis Punishes Everyone Concerned for Arguments

Chicago, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Echoes from the exchange of compliments between Umpire George Moriarty and four Chicago Cubs, Manager Charlie Grimm, Bill Jurgens, Billy Herman and Woody English, during the World Series:

Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis: "Fines of $200 each are imposed upon players English, Herman and Jurgens, and Umpire Moriarty, for vile, unprintable language in a 1935 World Series game. Fine of $200 is imposed upon Manager Grimm for violation of umpire's order removing him from a 1935 World Series game."

Grimm: "I will be glad to remit the fines for Jurgens, English and Herman. I want the money to come out of my pocket. * * * They had spirit. All of us were within our rights in condemning Moriarty for decisions we believed to be wrong."

Glad It's Settled.
Jurgens and English (joint statement from Hot Springs, Ark.): "We are glad this controversy has been settled. We are naturally delighted to learn Charlie Grimm indicated willingness to pay our fines. That is good news. It was just like him."

Herman: (When asked how many words he used in the arguments with Moriarty): "I used all of 'em."

Hank Greenberg, first baseman of world champion Detroit Tigers, who, Cubs claim, started it all by calling Phil Cavarretta, young Cub first baseman, "vile" names: "The charges against the Cubs were well founded but there was no justice in fining Moriarty. I wish I had been called in to testify in the case."

P. K. Wrigley, owner of the Cubs: "When it comes to a matter of fines and punishment, that's strictly up to Judge Landis. It does not make any difference how I might feel personally or how the fans might feel. The judge has made his ruling and that's all there is to it."

Moriarty, variously reported to be in Chicago and Woodstock, Ill., had not been reached for comment today.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—This football season will go down as one of the dullest on record. . . . If there aren't a dozen major upsets each Saturday, the fans think they've been cheated. Tex Rickard would have said: "I never seed anything like it." . . . Anything can happen and probably will before you tear into that turkey. Johnny Revolta rates three long ones for snapping out of his slump and winning the toughest golf tournament of them all—The P. G. A. grind. . . . Race men predict Grand Slam, the Bomar stable's crack two-year-old, will be the winter book favorite for next year's Kentucky Derby. . . . Wonder who Gar Davidson will put out of his hat this week?

Candidates for the Red Face league: The Harvard football manager who asked Tack Hardwick, former All-American end at Harvard, if he ever played football at Cambridge. . . . Tack was trying to get into football practice without a pass. . . . King Levinsky and Charlie Retzlaff want no part of Tony Galento. . . . And say so. . . . Mickey Cochrane is bear hunting in Wyoming. . . . Tim Mara will bet even money his New York Giants take the Chicago Bears a week from Sunday. . . . Postmaster General Farley never misses a pro game in New York. . . . There are 92,000 seats in the Ohio stadium, but try to get one for the Notre Dame-Buckeye clash Nov. 2.

SOCIAL DISEASE NEW TARGET OF HEALTH OFFICER

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Dr. Frank J. Jirka, director of the state department of public health, urges residents of the state to join in a campaign to wipe out social diseases, particularly syphilis which he said was costing the state a half million dollars a year.

"Approximately 18,000 new cases of syphilis are reported annually in Illinois," he said. "Already more than 14,000 cases have been reported during 1935. Nearly two-thirds of all diagnostic laboratory tests, 135,000 out of 225,000 made each year by the state department of public health relate to this disease."

He said that the department spends $20,000 annually for drugs for the treatment of indigent patients and that about 1,400 mental patients are always in state hospitals. He pointed out $100,000 annually is going into a drive to protect society against the disease and that only measles and scarlet fever are more common.

"While public alarm is frequently aroused and such drastic measures as the closing of the schools are resorted to upon outbreaks of diphtheria, infantile paralysis, scarlet fever and smallpox, the danger of these diseases is almost insignificant under modern conditions

PKSKIN POINTERS
HOW TO PLAY TACKLE
GIVE any coach a good, big pair of tackles and he can build a football team. The tackle is a shock-absorber on defense and an irresistible force on offense. He must be able to cover ground in a hurry, hit a ball carrier with nerve-shocking force, and knife through an opposing wall. The tackle's stance on offense is with the legs coiled under and fairly well apart, the toe of the inside foot being on a line with the other heel. Head is back and tail low. On defense, he squats down fairly low, with the inside leg slightly advanced. On straight-ahead plays, the tackle charges powerfully, on quick-opening plays he uses the zig-zag step. Against a normal offense he should play on the outside shoulder of the end. Rush passes and punts at all time.

WELFARE DRIVE GIVEN IMPETUS THROUGH NATION

Radio Addresses Delivered by President and Gerard Swope

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—With a declaration that private industry is now "taking up the slack" of unemployment but that the nation nevertheless should increase its donations to charity, President Roosevelt asked support for a private welfare drive that is in progress throughout the country today.

In an optimistic address delivered by radio last night on the opening program of the 1935 Mobilization for Human Needs, the President stressed reports of increased employment.

He referred to a September employment gain of 350,000 workers in private industries which report to the department of labor. This, he said, brought those industries to the level of November, 1930, and their payrolls back to the level of May 1931. He added that even the "durable goods" industries, long "backward," are now "putting their best foot forward."

"Recently," he said, "I expressed the hope that private industry would strain every nerve to increase their payrolls, increase the number of those whom they employed, and thus take from the Federal government and their local governments a great share of the burden of relief."

"Nation is Emerging"
"The figures which I have cited lead me to a greater confidence that private industry is living up to my hope. We seem to be taking up the slack."

The nation, he said, is "rapidly emerging" from the "years of deep depression."

He linked these statements with his appeal for generous giving in connection with the mobilization movement, sponsors of community chest drives in 350 cities.

"Why, you may ask, if the distress and the unemployment are less, should the giving be greater?" he said. "The answer is two fold: First of all, it is, I know, your hope and mine that the necessities of government relief furnished by funds received by taxation should decrease as rapidly as human needs will allow."

Swope Also Spoke
"But the other reason is of deeper significance, greater importance. There are, as you and I know, hundreds of thousands of men, women and children who require the kind of assistance that private charity and not government should give. There still remains, and will long remain, a sadly distressed segment of our population, destitute and unprovided for, in the communities of the United States."

Gerard Swope, chairman of the mobilization, spoke from Detroit on the same program, saying the "good neighbor" policy was the motto for the drive.

With the government during the task of direct relief over to states and communities, Swope said, "the service needed from private agencies will inevitably be increased during this period of transition."
